Officers, Directors End Service to Weoma Club

Two officers and three directors of the Weoma Club ended their service to the organization on January 10 after a combined total of sixteen years.

Bob McKulsky, president, and Treasurer Jeff Hunt completed their one-year terms after serving one-year terms as vice president and assistant treasurer, respectively.

Ken Deman, who served two-terms on the board of directors, stepped down as did one-term directors Dee Kelly and Linda Chollett. Kelly and Deman will remain as Weoma Club representatives.

The Weoma Club thanks them for their dedication and leadership.

Softball Meeting Set

A meeting for the Weoma Club softball captains is scheduled for Tuesday, February 6 at the Stockade Bar in Millard. Those wishing to participate in the 1990 league are also welcome to attend.

For the time of the meeting or any other questions contact Tom Furst, x3874 or Mike Huerta, x3379

Meeting Planned to Add Members to Weoma Ski Club

January often finds Omaha Works employees cross-country skiing in area parks or down-hill skiing at places like Trailridge. Recently, over 30 employees travelled to Colorado to ski at Steamboat Springs, twenty-five of whom were members of the Weoma Ski Club.

Locally, an adequate amount of snow has kept the cross-country skiers happy, according to Darwin Fager, Weoma Club director.

Fager is encouraging employees who are ski enthusiasts to join the Weoma Ski Club. The membership fee is only $2.00.

Fager is scheduling a club business meeting and the date and time will be announced soon. The purpose of the meeting is to elect officers and to plan activities for the coming year. Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend. The meeting notice will be posted in the Weoma Club News.

5-on-5 Basketball League on Track for '90 Season

Don Kadereit, Weoma Club Indoor Sports director, has announced there will be a 5-on-5 basketball league and that players and teams are needed. Time is running short for getting the league organized.

Interested people should contact John Spencer (league president), x3727 or Don Kadereit, x3288, immediately. They will be able to give you details on the gym site and starting times.

Mitten Tree Drive Slated

Sharon Carpenter, co-chairperson for the Mitten Tree project, has announced that the time has arrived to begin collecting mittens and hats for the 1990 drive. She said a member of the committee will visit all areas of the plant to collect funds February 5 through 9

Carpenter noted that there was a decline in the 1989 mitten count and she would like to see an increase in 1990. Those who would rather make or purchase mittens or hats can do so in lieu of making a monetary donation. All donations will be greatly appreciated.

Safety Awareness Contest

The fourth winner in the Safety Awareness contest was Linda Enterline, Dept. 523. Her reaction upon learning she had won was one of surprise. She correctly answered "120" to the question: A typical automobile horn can be as loud as _____ decibels.

For her achievement Linda was awarded a $50.00 gift certificate to Service Merchandise. Congratulations, Linda!

Thank You Notes

Thank you so much for the financial support and prayers and concern. You will never know how much it all helped.

We flew into Lincoln January 9 at 5:10 p.m. Connie is at the Madonna Center in Lincoln and shows improvement every day. Thank God for His promises. I returned to work January 22.

God bless you all.

I Want to Quit!

I want to quit, I want to quit, I want to quit! And millions do quit every year. That's right! Millions of Americans quit smoking each year. If you are a smoker, have you ever considered quitting? With the '90's well on their way, many smokers have stopped by the TLC office asking for advice on how to go about quitting. Here are a few tips.

The beginning of a new year is a good time to consider quitting. If it has been on your mind for some time, it may be the right time for you.

THE CASE FOR QUITTING-

Quitting is an individual decision. Smokers don't need to be told that smoking is bad for them. Most smokers are well aware of that. What they need is support for the confidence that they can quit. Individuals considering quitting require a lot of positive self talk. They need to convince themselves that they can be successful at quitting.

The preparation for quitting, the period of getting ready to quit may actually be the most important part of smoking cessation. This is the time that one develops their strategy. Keep in mind that quitting is a long term process. Try not to hurry it. Don't try to quit before you are ready. Also, try to reduce the stress level in your life before you begin.

Smokers often see quitting as an insurmountable task. It is more realistic to think of quitting as a gradual, step-by-step process. Plan your course, anticipate obstacles, then implement your plan. After you quit, be prepared for possible set backs and don't fall victim to them. If you would like additional information on how to quit smoking, stop by the TLC office.

DON'T TAKE RIGHT OF WAY-

GIVE IT!

I want to thank all of you for making my retirement day so memorable, it was great!

Thank you for the flowers, gifts, cards and money (which I will save for something special) and everything you did for me. It couldn't have been nicer. I was a very happy lady, thanks to you.

Good luck to you all and God bless you.

+BLOODMOBILE

Dennis the Menace—By Hank Ketcham

A DONOR'S THOUGHTS

I'm lying on a cot, staring at the ceiling while blood drips out of my arm. I'm trying to figure out why I enjoy doing this.

When I look at it objectively, giving blood to the Red Cross ought to offer little pleasure. How many people enjoy being stabbed in a sensitive fingertip to get a drop of blood for testing? Or having a big needle stuck into a vein? Or watching their blood run into a plastic bag? Yet I have always found that after giving blood, my day is a little brighter. Giving blood makes me feel good. I suspect it has something to do with my ideals. It's a way to share my abundance with someone else.

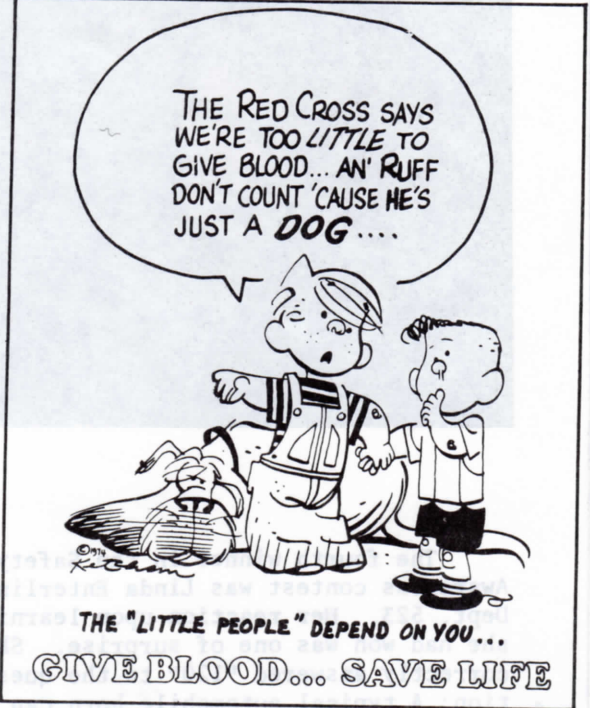

In one sense it's the ultimate gift. My blood, after all, is far more valuable to me than any gifts of time or money I can make.

My pint of blood comes close to the traditional "tithe." It's a fraction less than one-tenth of all the blood I have. But unlike money, I don't get much back from it, except a glass of juice and a cup of coffee. No receipts. No income-tax refunds.

I know I'm giving it to someone who really needs my help. A beggar may use a phony sob-story to cheat me out of money. But the person on the operating table, the victim of a traffic accident, the leukemia patient is in no position to cheat anyone - except death.

I know too that my gift goes only to the person who needs it. Unlike money, none of it can be siphoned off by any intermediary for administrative or publicity expenses.

And it's completely anonymous. I don't even have to cope with embarrassing "thank-you's" - or the even more embarrassing lack of them.
