What's So Special About

June

Father's Day, June 16

Most historians credit Sonora Dodd, of Washington state, for starting the Father's Day tradition. She heard a Mother's Day sermon in 1909 and wanted a day to honor her father, a Civil War veteran who raised six children alone after the death of his wife. Dodd chose June 19th, her father's birthday. Others contend that Grace Golden Clayton of Fairmont, W. Va., launched the first Father's Day. Her own father, a Methodist minister, had died in 1896. She still missed his guidance and was considering hosting a special tribute to him around Independence Day. Then, in December of 1907, a local mine explosion killed 360 miners, leaving 250 widows and more than 1,000 fatherless children. That event led Clayton to celebrate what many consider the first Father's Day, on July 5, 1908. "It was partly the explosion that set me to think how important and loved most fathers are," she said.

"All those lonely little children and heartbroken widows in a matter of a few minutes. How sad and frightening to have no father, no husband, to turn to at such an awful time."

National Iced Tea Month, June 1-30. Iced tea was first sold in 1904 at the St. Louis World's Fair. A tea importer had hoped to win new customers with free samples of hot tea, but a heat wave eliminated the public's interest, so he dumped ice into the drink and a new beverage was born.

Donald Duck's birthday, June 9. On this day in 1934, Donald Duck made his debut in the cartoon, "The Wise Little Hen." He has appeared in 128 cartoons and 42 short features -- more than any other Disney character.

National Flag Week, June 9-15. Millions of American flags have been sold since September 11th. Two days after the terrorist attacks, the U.S. House of Representatives passed a resolution asking every American to fly the flag for 30 days to show the world that "we as Americans remain great and free." Many Canadians also bought and flew U.S. flags to show their support.

Solar Eclipse, June 10. This annular eclipse -- where the moon is completely ringed by the sun -- will begin at 4:51 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time and will end at 10:36. It will be visible in the United States, Canada, northern Mexico, and parts of Australia and Asia.

Start of Summer, June 21. Summer is still the most popular time to vacation. A Gallup survey shows that 33 percent of adults say that summer is the "perfect" vacation time, followed by 27 percent who like the fall; 21 percent, the spring; and 19 percent, winter time.

HEALTH

The Health Benefits of Marriage

June, the big month for weddings, is an appropriate time to take heart from studies which found that being married may let you live longer, as well as be healthy, wealthy, and happy.

Higher life expectancy.

The National Institute of Aging (NIA) says that married men live eight to 10 years longer than single or divorced men, and married women live three to four years longer than those single or divorced.

Improved health.

The American Heart Association reports that married people drink less, use fewer drugs, and watch their weight more than singles.

Better finances.

NIA also finds that marrieds are twice as wealthy as singles of the same age because they save more.

Increased contentment.

The Marriage Project, affiliated with Rutgers State University, says that married men and women report higher levels of happiness than their single counterparts.

Attention!!

NUTRITION

Enjoy Your Vacation without Gaining Weight

Curves for Women, a national health club, offers these tips on how to enjoy your vacation without gaining weight:

- Plan to eat your largest meals at breakfast or lunch so you will have much of the day to work off the calories.
- Keep on the move and incorporate physical activities into your trip.
- Pack healthy snacks.
- Eat every four or five hours to keep your blood sugar on an even keel and hunger pangs at bay.

Choosing the Right Olive Oil

The International Olive Oil Council offers these suggestions on choosing the right olive oil to enhance your foods:

- Mild olive oils are good for salads, vegetables, and fish, as well as for making omelets, fried eggs, mayonnaise and for baking.
- Stronger, fruity-flavored oils, with a slightly bitter taste, will bring out flavors when frying, sautéing, braising, and stewing.
- Extra virgin olive oil is best served at room temperature because high heat can destroy its delicate flavor. Save it for breadsticks, salads and other cold dishes, or sprinkle it over hot dishes just before serving.

SAFETY

Hot Tub Safety

Hot tubs are relaxing, but they can be dangerous if used improperly. Here are some safety tips from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission:

- Don't sit in water hotter than 104 degrees Fahrenheit. A temperature of 100 degrees is considered safe for a healthy adult. Be especially careful about exposing young children to hot temperatures.
- Don't soak and drink. Too much alcohol can lead to drowsiness, unconsciousness, and drowning.
- Stay out of the tub if you are taking medications that cause drowsiness, such as tranquilizers, antihistamines, or anticoagulants.
- Pregnant women beware! Soaking in water above 102 degrees Fahrenheit can cause fetal damage during the first three months of pregnancy.
- Talk to your doctor before using a hot tub if you have a history of heart disease, circulatory problems, diabetes, or blood pressure problems.

It isn't whether the grass is greener on the other side, it's how good a gardener you are.

BUSINESS*Cell-Phone Etiquette

Few modern conveniences are so useful, but also so potentially annoying, as cell-phones. By following a few basic rules of etiquette, you can use your phone without disturbing others:

1. Turn it off during meetings, lectures, performances, movies, religious services, and lectures.
2. Turn the ringer as low as possible or consider a phone that vibrates rather than rings when a call comes in.
3. Don't engage in lengthy conversations in the presence of others: the people you are with should take priority over a phone call.
4. Keep your voice low when talking on the phone. Whenever possible, move into a hallway or a secluded spot.
5. If you must drive and talk on a cell phone, use a hands-free kit. Even better, pull over.
6. Don't use a cell phone inside an airplane or a hospital because it may interfere with sensitive equipment.

When Wearing Shorts at Work

If you are permitted to wear shorts at work during the summer, here are some general guidelines to follow to avoid abusing the privilege:

- Shorts should be no higher than mid-thigh.
- They should be hemmed neatly. Cut-offs or split-sided shorts are no-nos.
- Shorts should not be tight or form fitting.

Wanted Retirees!

You will be teamed with an experienced volunteer for training and be required to volunteer at least 2 hours per month.

FUN FACTS*The Inventor of Television

The father of modern television was Philo T. Farnsworth, a farm boy from Idaho, who, legend has it, thought of the idea at 13 while he was tilling a potato field, back and forth, with a horse-drawn harrow. He realized that an electron beam could scan images the same way, line by line, and in 1927, while he was a student at Brigham Young University, he was the first to transmit a television image made up of 60 horizontal lines. Appropriately, the image he transmitted was a dollar sign. But ultimately Farnsworth became disenchanted with how his invention was being used, telling his son, "There's nothing on it worthwhile, and we're not going to watch it in this household, and I don't want it in your intellectual diet."

"The Scorpion King"

"The Rock has finally come back to the big screen"

The Rock WWF Superstar makes a successful venture to movies as the leading man in the blockbuster "The Scorpion king" as an action hero. He is as believable as Schwarzenegger or Stallone, and I could at least understand what he was saying. The Scorpion king is set thousands of years before the pyramids were built.
The city's Sodom and Gomorrah were the urban hubs of the times. The movie's plot what plot?
It's like one of the old Sinbad movies good guy!
bad guy! woman? Bad and good fight, good wins and gets the woman.
Between that there's a Nubian giant (Michael Clarke Duncan) a scientist, who invents
gunpowder a horse thief, and a clever kid. In addition, a whole lot of scantly dressed beautiful ladies and the Sorceress (Kelly Hu) is the pick of the bunch.
The movie was entertaining, it had a few laughs some great fight scenes with computer generated special effects and some not so thought provoking dialogue like "No one goes to the valley of death. That's why it's called the valley of death" overall a good action escape movie.
Hey! Why not? smell what the rock is... cooking

Dining Out!

Italian Restaurant

As a student, I am always looking for someplace different to eat on the nights that I have class. I spotted this little restaurant and thought I would try it out. The place has a nice atmosphere and it's clean. The waitress was very nice but she wasn't around much. I ordered the Marco Polo, which are chunks of steak, peppers, mushrooms and onion on a bed of spaghetti covered with marinara sauce. It sounded good.

When I got my meal the steak was rare (flopped on the grilled turned over and placed on the pasta), I had asked for medium. The marinara tasted like a can of tomato sauce had been heated and poured over the top. There were no spices in the sauce at all. The only thing that gave it any kind of seasoning was the overcooked vegetables. This is one place, I would not recommend.

The purpose of life is a life of purpose.

Wedding Customs Around the World

In Jewish weddings, the couple is married under a canopy, which represents God's presence and symbolizes their new home. After the ceremony, the groom breaks a napkin-wrapped wineglass with his foot, in remembrance of the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem.

According to Lithuanian tradition, the bride and groom are given bread and salt at their reception, so they will never suffer hunger, and wine and honey, which represent everything good for their life together.

In Scottish weddings, the bridal couple throw money as they leave, in the belief, custom says, that it will be returned many times over.

At a Filipino wedding, the bride and groom have money pinned to their clothes as they dance with guests.

Jumping the broom is an African wedding tradition, which symbolizes entering a new life together.

In Bermuda, the wedding cake is topped with a tiny cedar tree in a pot. After the wedding, the couple plant the tree, which grows along with their love.

Traveling with Grandkids

The American Association for Retired Persons (AARP) offers these suggestions to make traveling with grandchildren a fun experience for everyone:

- *Discuss your rules of behavior at the beginning of the trip, so the children know what is expected of them.
- *Plan trips around sites with physical activities versus those of strictly historical significance or informational interest. Intersperse high levels of activity with quiet times.
- *Drive at night so that they will sleep on the way.
- *Keep to the grandchildren's regular nap or bedtimes.
- *Bring books, games, and toys for long car rides, rainy days, or while waiting in lines or in restaurants.
- *Pack fruit and water and feed children frequently to avoid crankiness.
- *Allow time for spontaneous excursions.

The AARP says that children ages three to five do better on short trips, such as a day trip or weekend. Grade schoolers can handle a week, while high school students can "survive" two weeks.
